

Michael Joly's Biography

Michael H. Joly is a retired investment banker who moved to Novato in 1983 from his native Boston area where he was born the same month & year as North Marin Water District! Mr. Joly went to the University of Texas at Austin then entered stockbroking in Boston & London until he joined Robertson, Stephens & Co. in San Francisco in 1983 from which he retired in 1996. Mr. Joly pursues personal investment & gardening in his retirement. He is dedicated to good water & environmental stewardship and committed to best represent all stakeholders in NMWD especially our staff, customers & all the residents of our service community.